

match correspondent, and can be immediately obtained by the local police. If he were brought here, he could probably locate this woman for the police.

Mrs. Jenkins had declared that she recovered her jewels in New York and not in Chicago, as was given out at the time of the recovery. She asserts that they were delivered to her in the local office of the Mooney and Boland Detective Agency, No. 122 Broadway, and that several persons were present when what remained of them were turned over to her. Among these persons was her attorney, R. G. Morris, of the law firm of Morris and Plant, No. 135 Broadway.

Before the gems were given to her, she says her lawyer presented her with a bill for about $41,000 incurred as expense in recovering them from the men declared by the Mooney and Boland agency to have been the thieves. Two of these alleged thieves, she says, were brought before her in the Chicago office of Mooney and Boland about a week previously. No arrest of the alleged thieves was then attempted, and no apprehension of them ever has been undertaken by the Chicago authorities.

The Yonkers woman gave the police much information about the affairs of Mrs. Jenkins, which Mrs. Jenkins assured the police she could never have gotten save by forcing open the cedar chest and reading the letters there, as they were in a tray in the said chest with the jewels.

Further Suspicion.
Another peculiar incident fastens further suspicion on the mysterious woman. On the day of the robbery she advised Mrs. Jenkins not to wear very much jewelry, and the result was that about $25,000 worth of jewelry that she usually wore was stolen with the rest.

All the time that Mrs. Jenkins was entertaining her and showing her the utmost hospitality this mysterious woman was shadowing her, prying into her business, and unearthing letters from Mrs. Jenkins's private boxes.

Soon after Commissioner Dougherty commenced his investigation Mrs. Jenkins was summoned to Chicago to the office of Mooney & Boland, in that city, and she was shown two men whom she was told were two ex-convicts who had been in the scheme to rob her. She was told that the information about the jewelry had come to her through a chance remark heard in Saratoga by a man who obtained a $5,000 reward later on. Mr. Dougherty learned also that when Mrs. Jenkins heard that the jewels had been located she demanded the immediate recovery of the property, declaring that if the property was not delivered to her directly she would start criminal proceedings.

TREATY NEARLY READY

All Formalities Could Be Completed in Four Hours.

Washington, June 29.—All formalities necessary to the final conclusion of the general arbitration treaty between America and Great Britain could be completed within four hours, assuming that the machinery was working properly and smoothly, was the official declaration to-day. This declaration was made by the British ambassador here, Lord Curzon, in a speech before the Senate. He stated that the treaty was now in a position to be signed by the British government, and that every question to be submitted to arbitration must first receive the approval of the Senate.

Official advice indicates that the French government is practically ready to enter into treaty relations with America on the basis of Secretary Knox's proposal.

An interesting feature of the proposed treaty is the provision for the reference of issues to a tribunal, which is so framed as to foreclose the creation of the permanent court of arbitration towards which the administration is steadily working.

NEWSOM DAMAGE SUIT IS ON TRIAL

Action Against Power and Telephone Companies to Recover $10,000.

INDICTMENTS IN BANK CASE

Work for Great Fair Being Pushed—Lumber Company
Engineer Killed.

Times-Dispatch Bureau,
109 North Sycamore Street,
Petersburg, Va., June 29.

The trial of the suit of Robert Newsom's administrator against the Virginia Railway and Power Company, the Petersburg Telephone Company jointly to recover $10,000 damages, has been in progress before a jury in the Hastings Court all day. Paul Pettit and James M. Quicke, Jr., are counsel for the plaintiff; W. B. McIlwaine, for the telephone company; R. H. Mann for the railway company, and D. C. Gordon for Newsom. The suit is in the interest of the bonding company, Robert Newsom was a lineman in the employment of the Petersburg Telephone Company. On the 11th of May of last year, while engaged in adjusting wires on a pole at the corner of South Sycamore and Fillmore Streets, he was so shocked by a live wire that he fell to the pavement. The shock is alleged to have been caused by the crossing of the wires of the telephone and railway companies; hence the suit against both. Mr. Newsom was paralyzed, the back being broken by the fall. He lingered helplessly for nine months, dying in July, 1910. The trial of the suit probably will be continued into to-morrow.

Fifty-three Indictments.
Altogether fifty-three indictments have been returned by grand juries in the Appomattox Trust Company cases. The first grand jury returned twenty, the second, twenty-three, the third was discharged before entering upon an investigation, and the fourth this week reported ten. The charges embraced in three indictments embrace false entries, false reports, embezzlement, etc. Some of the early indictments have been nolle prossed, and others may be dismissed, but the majority of them are pending. Demurrers to the latest indictments will be entered and argued July 22 and 23. The number of counts in all these indictments is in the neighborhood of 600.

It is understood that Commonwealth's Attorney Mann will enter a motion in the Hastings Court on Saturday morning to quash all of the indictments against Charles Hall Davis and Carter H. Bishop, found by the first two grand juries, returning for trial only those found by the last grand jury on Tuesday. The motion will be opposed by the defense.

Working for the Fair.
The Petersburg Fair Association is pushing the work for a great fair next fall, and the industry has encouraged the belief that the exhibit in October will be a signal success. More than $20,000 will be expended in improving the grounds—fencing in the property and erection of buildings, widening and perfecting the racetrack. A large sum will be expended in premiums. The preliminary list is a very liberal one, especially in the exhibitions of live stock and of corn, tobacco and peanuts.

AVIATORS MAKE THRILLING TRIP

Calais, France, June 29.—Seven of the contestants in the European circuit aviation race have arrived here. The aviators started from Roubaix, this afternoon on the sixth stage, which called for a flight to Calais, and all who reached here safely agreed that the trip was one of the most difficult and thrilling they had yet made.

The trip was largely owing to the violence of the wind. One of the aviators, Vidart, said that he had covered most of the distance sideways. Vidart was first to arrive here, followed by Vidart and Beaumont. The aviator who broke down about fifteen miles from Roubaix, was last to arrive. He carried a passenger, and it took him more than seven hours to travel the distance. Valentine and Train are stalled at Wambrechies and Reims, respectively, and Brevet, who was indisposed, did not start.

The official classification for the six stages is as follows: Beaumont, 48 hours 8 minutes; Garros, 51:48; Vidart, 62:21; Verduin, 67:23; Gilbert, 75:62; Kimmerring, 76:52; Renaud not announced.

The seventh stage, from Calais to Dover, has been postponed until Monday at the request of the English commissioners, as the international race for the Gordon Bennett trophy is to be held Saturday.
